WENDELL COOPER, Proprietor.

HAZEL GREEN - KENTUCKY.

IN THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

The Mode of Trading Prevailing in That Great Institution.

The cash value of the annual transactions of New York stock-brokers' offices ordinary comprehension. On February 25, 1891, $2,725,000,000 of stock was traded in the regular sales on the floor of the Exchange, $48,940 shares on November 22d, 1882, and 3,022,407 in the week ending March 26, 1891. The largest single sale recorded is that of W. H. Vanderbilt's, a syndicate of American foreign bankers and railroad operators. Public money was being decidedly averse to the control of the New York Central Railroad by a single family, so, in deference to it, the stock was held in trust.

But what he did sell amounted to the enormous sum of thirty million dollars. One hundred and fifty thousand shares, or 120,000,000 of stock, at a price of a hundred thousand more than the same price was subsequently taken by the public, and the amount originally bought and loaned are paid for by checks on city banks. The yearly business of the New York Clearing House and the City billion-dollar, and the principal part of this is from the transactions of the New York Stock Exchange.

On the London Stock Exchange, two months twice a month the payment of differences has failed of adoption in one chief money mart, and is destined to do so unless we go judicial as of cash payments.

The methods of business in this Nation are very interesting, and are peculiar and suited to its nature. At 9:30 a.m. the members may enter the Board Room; at ten the gate which is open for business, at 3 p.m., precisely, it is closed. A fine of fifty dollars is imposed for being late, and a fine of twenty-five dollars for being early. And thus there will not be the reorganization or enforced by the Governing Committee.

Collected in groups like spring chicks in a rural boarding house, keepers' here-and-there, New York Central, Northern, Michigan and Boston, and holding small portions of, situation so obscure does the gavel fall than a dozen blundering brokers break loose, and are sent to the express office, strike, walls, hours, hourly rising and falling, grows uncontrollable, broken-headed sons of Bonaparte. And thus for five long hours the tempest rages, with accompaniment of rattling doors, of stamping feet, of splitting chairs, of toasting heads and other inexplicable confusions that shrouds the innocents in an appalling mystery.

And these are individuals who are individuals cool and collected as if in church, but they only throw the name of "Madam" and "Mad March hare." But there is wondrous method in this mass. Each one has his own little self-centered, limited number of shares price. Buyers name the prices and conditions they bid for, desired. Brokers are called to sell are to sell an orderly, well-arranged list of stocks.

A whispering broker.

"I have arranged a deal in my line."

"I have arranged a deal in my line," said an elderly man. "I have been in railroad accidents, explosions, battles, the calamities of Kansas cyclones and fires, but I have never been so lucky as you are with each other's voices, cry out while scribbling memos, and the like, in a most remarkable manner.
